Irwin told the police he knew of no reason for the attack. He was in a saloon run by a cousin, Michael O'Shaughnessy, in East Forty-first street, on Friday night, he said, and found his brother Pat, twenty years old, badly beaten up. Saturday O'Shaughnessy wrote to him that he'd better pack up and "git," as the gang was going to "do away with him and his brother."

Lieut, McAdam, of the East Thirtyfifth street station, sent out ten reserves in plain clothes, and Thomas Kenny, a hackman, of No. 347 East Forty-first street, was arrested. The police say his coat had blood on it. "Pat" Kenny, his brother, tried to interfere.

HUGHES SEEKS HELP IN WAR ON TRACK GAMBLING

Addresses Mass Meeting in Majestic Theatre at Which Choate Presides.

Gov. Charles E. Hughes spoke against gambling at race tracks at a massmeeting of cilizens that packed the Majestic Theatre yesterday afternoon, and at the conclusion a resolution was unanimously adopted expressing thanks for his message on the subject, and requesting the Senate and Assembly committees to report out the bills, "to the end that class legislation for the benefit of a gambling trust may be speed-ily ended, and the Empire State may no longer be the refuge of the book-makers whose negatious business New Jersey, New Hampshire, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and Missouri declined to sanction."

Joseph H. Choate presided, and said he believed it the duty of every good oftisen to uphold Gov. Hughes. At least fifty bookmakers were present, and a commissioner was present from each of the eight race tracks in the State, three having stenographers to make a verbatim report, for the purpose, it was said, of preparing arguments against the Agnew-Hart bill.

Gov. Hughes said it was a plain question whether or not the State Constitution should be enforced, and he was glad to find a disposition to show the public sentiment behind the move, irrespective of race or creed and without regard to any special religious or moral policy.

He said a great deal can be accomplished by awakening the public conscience. He called race-track gambling "legalized demoralization," and said persons in New York did not need to be told anything about it. Words and music of the "Soul Kiss Waltz Song" as produced at the New York Theatre with GENEE, the world's greatest dancer, will be given in the Magazine Sec-tion of next Sunday's World. Order from
